Yield Farmers

Based on current prices on the farm for wheat and corn, these basic crops will yield the American farmer closs will yield the American farmer close to $4,000,000,000 in 1925, according to the government crop report, made public yesterday.

The department of agriculture placed the wheat crop at 679,000,000 bushels 100 Police Help in and that of corn at 2,956,000,000.

The 1,387,000,000 bushels of oats, at farm prices, is estimated at $416,000,-000, the 214,000,000 bushels of barley at $128,000,000, and the 52,000,000 bushels of rye at $47,000,000. This would make the five grain crops at close to $4,500,000,000.

Total for the five grains-wheat, corn, rye, oats, and barley-was 5,285,-000,000 bushels, or 183,000,000 more than harvested last year and 67,000,000 less than suggested by the report Aug.

The wheat crop of 679,000,000 bushels s practically the same as suggested a month ago and 194,000,000 bushels short of last year's final returns. It places the United States on about a domestic basis with nothing but durum to export, and suggests the possibility of importing bread wneat from Canada before the end of the present season.

Winter Wheat Crop Larger. Winter wheat crop of 416,000,000 bushels increased 12,000,000 bushels during the month when a reduction was expected, but is 174,000,000 bushels short of last year's harvest. In the six states east of the Missouri river there are 164,000,000 bushels, or 16,000,-000 more than in July, but as compared with last year there was a loss of 3,000,000 bushels.

The most striking feature in the winter wheat report is the smallness of the Kansas crop, 66,000,000 bushels, the poorest showing with three excep-tions in the last 20 years. In 1917 it alsed 45,000,000 bushels, in 1911 51,-000,000, while in 1910 there was a yield of $2,480,000 bushels. Last year it pro-duced 154,000,000 bushels.

"My wife declared we must have a home," said the young salesman."I declared it was a joke. We had no money.

"We have the home.

"This is how it happened. Unknown to me my wife saved $500. Her uncle gave her a lot. Then she borrowed $500 from him. With a lot and $1000 in hand she put the proposition up to me. I balked hard. I said it couldn't be done. We couldn't pay for it on my salary. She said I had to do it. So I scraped together $400 and we went at it. We squirmed and mortgaged and schemed and finally the house was finished.

"It was a shoe string performance and I said so often and emphatically I could see nothing but a debt and no way to pay it unless we stopped eating.

"I didn't know it then but I know now that I wasn't what you would call a valuable employe. I just about got by and pay boosts were small and seldom.

"Then one day, without warning, I got a promotion and a fat raise. When I thanked the 'old man' for it I learned that he had been greatly impressed by that house building stunt. He didn't knew it was a shoe string. He thought if I could do a thing like that for myself, I could do something for the firm. I began to be impressed by it myself. Since then I have been trying to live up to that reputation.

"I don't advise anyone to do it the way I did, but there's a lot more to saving money than getting interest on it. I believe the wife knew it all the time, but she only smiles when I try to discuss it with her."

5.000 Coal Miners Return to Work in Great Britain

LONDON, Aug. 10.—There are signs of a revival of the British coal mining industry. Following the temporary settlement last week, several pits which have been closed for weeks, and in some cases months, resumed operations today. More than 5.000 miners are going back to work. Ef-forts were made today to reach a settlement in the Welsh fields.

The Soda Habit

There are many people who take quantities of sods whenever there is an accumulation of gas in the stomath. Of this practice a physician says that while it relieves acidity temporarily it also fixes the hymptom, making it a highit which in turn begets the soda habit.

Continuing, he says, "Many people take a single dose of sods with advantage. Some need it rather frequently. Some are harmed by it. Deciding the same of the same ciding which class a person is in, is a matter for the physician and then after careful analysis and study." as many circuits for the exchange of messages between inside and outside Chicago folks as the total number of phones in Chicago 30 years ago, the number at that time bting 5,500. It is more than seven-ninths of all of the telephones then operated in the whole ten counties.

Compare the 4,739 circuits for outside talking now with a total of 20,400 phones in all Chicago in 1900.

A more impressive contrast is substituted in the exchange of plied for two wires. That increases the capacity of the 4,739 circuits.

The Bell interests have another "subserved and the part of the perpower" plan. One Chicagoan calls for a toll wire and gets his party on the phone. TO INVESTIGATE TWO of Vind's associates were taken and sent to the pentitentiary, but Vind and three others who remained at liberty turned up suddenly when they were pardoned a few days ago. Permanent Servicethe basis of Nokol success

WHEN YOU BUY AN OIL BURNER FOR your home you expect a lifetime of satisfactory automatic heating service. Nokol success depends on permanent satisfaction to every Nokol Owner. Ours is a permanent business.

N TOKOL SUCCESS DEPENDS ON ITS ABIL ity to burn high grade oil. It is not forced by inefficient operation to resort to the heavy, low grade oils used by the ordinary oil burner, which experience has shown are not capable of rendering automatic service. Nokol burns a cheap distillate which will always be plentiful and which can give the permanent automatic service that Nokol guarantees.

TOKOL SUCCESS DEPENDS ON ABSOLUTE economy of this fuel. If the ordinary burner attempted to use this high grade oil its fuel cost would be prohibitive. The Nokol combustion chamber—an exclusive and patented Nokol feature-produces the 1600 necessary for the complete combustion of oil in 30 seconds. It burns all the oil completely without soot, smoke or waste. As a result the fuel cost of Nokol burning distillate is not only less than that of hard coalit is to the best of our knowledge less than that of any other oil burner regardless of the grade of fuel used.

LINALLY, NOKOL SUCCESS DEPENDS ON an organization capable of installing Nokol properly, capable of seeing that Nokol gives you the heating satisfaction you expect from it.

THESE ARE THE LONG-TERM POLICIES that today keep Nokol at the head of the industry it founded. Of approximately 75,000 automatic oil burners installed in the United States, by 347 manufacturers, 22,000 are Nokols.

DECAUSE OF THESE POLICIES NOKOL IS ABLE TODAY D to give guarantees of efficiency and economy approached by no other home heating device-coal or oil. When you buy Nokol today, you buy more than an oil burner. You buy a guaranteed heating service, without dirt, labor, trouble or interruption, at less than the cost of coal.

To be sure of your Nokol by Fall-ACT NOW!

T TE ARE INSTALLING MORE NOKOLS THIS YEAR than ever before. September installation dates are practically filled. Act now, while there is still time to arrange for an installation at your convenience. Two more months remain till cold weather. Call or phone today for one of our heating engineers. He can tell you after an inspection of your heating plant what a Nokol installation will cost in your home. Or send the coupon.

Versatile Jinx Spoils Elmer's Whole Evening

Ruins Something Wherever the Dial Turns.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS. There was certainly some unseen linx, some sly, slinking hoodoo in posof my room, set, and self last

In the first place I surmised early in the evening that the night would be a good one for distant receptionfound out that it was not. So I was not mentally bent on hearing local stations. Then I noticed that when pass ing local stations with full power on they did not knock my ears off in the usual way. A new A battery fixed that

The next thing to attract attention was the nearby Chicago station WOK, which is announced as W-O. K. [pretty good!]. It had a good program, featuring the Therrien trio [operatic tenor, violinist and piano]. Of Henry Therrien, the tenor, almost anything in praise could be said. But the announcements seemed to carry the idea that the violinist was pretty lonesome

The next move was to WCBD, but his station's tones have been coming in muddled recently and they came muddled last night. I tried the short antenna—ditto. Tested all of the tubes—still ditto. Then I tried testing with another standard station [always a good plan], which in this pped to be WHT. The tones from WHT were pure.

Distant stations again, anchoring with WCX, Detroit, 10 o'clock, in time hear the night's final number by the Detroit Symphony orchestra, and the announcement that this was also the last of something, but what I could not make out. I hope it has nothing to do with the Detroit Symphony or-chestra. Perhaps on this hoodoo night I shouldn't have tuned in WCX.

WLW, Cincinnati, was extra jazzy, so no energy was consumed here. WSAI, Cincinnati, was found com ing extra strong, with a good pro-gram. A strange thing here, the woman announcer's voice came through as clearly as if she were here in the room, but the concert proper was mud-dled. So there's still something wrong omewhere. (There is a man announce ing at this 11:10 minute, and the won an wins for distinctness!) WJJD, Mooseheart, was listened to

Mr. Jinx left that station alone for Good program. Think I'll turn in this sattical copy and spend some midnight electricity getting better ac-quainted with this good station.

PIANOS

A Measure of Value

THE merit of a piano can be measured in a L certain degree by the demand it has created -represented by production figures.

The quality of the KIMBALL Piano and the prestige it has won can be expressed by the number of instruments already in use-by the impressive size of the KIMBALL factoriesby the immense quantities of material used in manufacture.

But mere arithmetic is an insufficient measure of quality. There is a surer way.

Take your place at the keyboard of a KIMBALL Piane Hear the first thrilling tones rise at the touch of your fingers-whether in the inspiring grandeur of a march, or the rippling daintiness of a pastoral.

You will gain a truer conception of the perfection of this wonderful instrument than any quoted figures can give you—no matter what type of KIMBALL you use for a demonstration-large or small grand, reproducing grand, upright or player.

Only by a demonstration can you appreciate the full meaning of the message delivered by the KIMBALL'S glorious tones. Why not hear one today—and ask us about the KIMBALL "One Price Policy," which assures you the utmost value?

Why You Read Certain "Ads"

and unconsciously pass others by...the way Roger Babson, noted statistician, explains it

THE average man and woman "runs and reads." 1 Fifty articles are glanced at and passed by. Then . . . a pause. One is read.

Why? And especially in relation to advertisements? Some are read. Scores are passed by. Those that are passed represent the loss of thousands of dollars to the advertiser. They make no impression. They are lost.

Roger Babson, in a recent report, analyzes and summarizes it in a few words, putting a new light on an old problem.

"These headlines," he comments under reproductions of a Palmolive Soap, a Quaker Oats and a Vacuum Oil Company advertisement, "have shown how a few clever advertisers are undertaking to give people what "This first ad says nothing about soap in its headlines. It is beauty, not soap, that people want. Hence this advertisement strikes the nail on the head.

"Another-'7.35 A.M.-The Breakfast Cooked and The Kitchen Cool' . . . that is the important point, the point that interests friend wife in her purchase.

"To Pare Down Manufacturing Costs," another headline . . . "not a word about oil until you get into the ad. What the manufacturer wants is not oil but lower manufacturing costs."

That will probably explain why one reads only a few ads. And why the ones read result in a purchase of the products they exploit.

The art of writing advertisements that are read is simple, yet, one which but few have mastered.

Men canny in the ways of gaining public acceptance apply certain definite principles to their "copy."

They present their story from the reader's point

They put themselves in the background. They offer their readers advantages...say little about Getting down to the point quickly is their fetish. And that "point" is the exclusive feature of the product they aim to sell. A point stressed and featured in every ad that's run... never omitted, never subordinated to extraneous things. Wise advertising men avoid "cleverness" like a burnt child the flame.

They feature products rather than slogans. A generalized slogan may be applied to fifty competitive products—but the exclusive features of a given product apply only to that product.

Men seasoned in advertising avoid the mill stone of "human interest," so-called, by dealing in facts above fancies.

The reading public is treated as a group of intelligent human beings seeking information on certain subjects. And they should be given that information, clearly, tersely and convincingly, using as many or as few words as are necessary to cover the subject intelligently.

Experienced advertisers know that when properly presented, advertisements will gain a reading along with world news, features, or other editorial

They mark the common sense of advertisingthe only principle seasoned advertisers have found certain of results.

For that reason, expert service—as provided by experienced advertising agents—is invaluable to the advertiser, who is invariably "too close" to his product to interpret it properly to the consuming public.

To the "coach" idea Pierce-Arrowhas added many unusual features - a natural result of Pierce-Arrow standards and ideals. The luxurious body, band built of flawless ash and aluminum in Pierce-Arrow shops, is a new note in quality, durability, beauty and safety.

Roominess, combined with interior appointments of limousine quality, is typically Pierce-Arrow, yet most unusual in even the finest enclosed cars.

Individuality, as expressed in exterior color treatment, is a feature of vast im-

Employes of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), who have taken advantage of the Company's Stock Purchasing Plan in 1925, will get their stock at $62.00 per share, regardless of what the price may be during the remainder of the year.

This is the average market price for a six months' period ending March 31, 1925.

In reality, Standard Oil employes get their stock at $41.33 per share, as the Company adds, as a gift, 50c to every dollar invested by the employe.

Regarding the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) Stock Purchasing Plan, Mr. O. A. Mather, in the Chicago Tribune, says:

"Behind this lies a story of relations to employes almost unique in American

"Four years ago the Standard Oil directors translated into action their belief that employes would be more efficient and loyal if they were stockholders and also that they should be permitted to share the profits. While this was not a new idea, the plan worked out by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) was somewhat of a departure from custom.

"The directors announced a five year stock acquisition plan whereby employes might subscribe for stock to the extent of one-fifth of their annual salaries. This constituted a partial payment plan. But as an additional incentive and reward the directors stated that for every dollar put in by an employe the company would add 50 cents. As the price of the stock each year is based on the average market price for a preceding period, the company, in effect, is selling stock to its employes at two-thirds of its market value."

The result of making the employe ownership of stock attractive has been to promote harmony, encourage industrious efficiency and to harbor contentment among the employes; in short, to instill and nourish the spirit of service, which reacts to the distinct benefit of the patrons of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in the ten Middle Western states where the Company is straining every nerve and fibre to serve thirty million people with petroleum prod-ucts of high quality, when and where they need them.

These Homes and Apartments Are Flax-li-num Insulated

This splendid two-flat building, owned by Mr. Charles G. Carlson and located at 8005 S. Sangamon St., Chicago, Ill., is insulated with Flax-li-num throughout. One-half inch of this highly effective heat-resisting material lines all the outside walls. A full inch of Flax-li-num covers the underside of the top floor ceiling—the point where the greatest heat loss occurs during the winter and the greatest absorption takes place during the summer.

This home of Mr. A. L. Dreher, located at 4823 N. California Ave., is an outstanding example of the effectiveness of Plax-li-num as a barrier to passage of heat. After his home was built, Mr. Dreher applied 1,200 square feet of one-inch Flax-li-num over the attic floor. Mr. Dreher reports a full saving of $100.00 for the first year after he installed Flax-li-num.

For sound desfening, an quarter inch of Plax-li-num was installed between all rough and finished the points. For insulation, one-said inch Plax-li-num was installed in the points.

Like an enormous awning spread over your entire home or apartment, Flax-li-num—the building insulation—keeps out the heat of the blazing sun and makes both living and sleeping rooms cool, comfortable and always livable.

Flax-li-num is a necessity in every home and apartment building. For ordinary walls and roofs transmit the sun's heat as a copper wire transmits electricity. Flax-li-num prevents this transmission of heat. Flax-li-num is even more necessary during the winter.

For then it stops the loss of heat. This means a saving in fuel costs of from 25% to 331/3%. A home or apartment building insulated with Flax-li-num is more comfortable, all year 'round. It is freer from drafts, warmer in winter and cooler in summer—upstairs as well as down. Flax-li-num costs very little. And, when installed, it pays both immediate and future dividends. It pays immediate dividends in the savings made possible by the need for a smaller heating plant. It pays future dividends in reduced fuel costs for every year thereafter and a more comfortable home for all time to come.

an investor who insists upon quick marketability and short term, as well as a high degree of safety, in the securities he buys must be content with a relatively low return on his money. This is true of necessity; for a bond, like anythingelse that has all the important desirable qualities, commands a high price. In a bond this means a correspondingly low return. By sacrificing the short maturity the investor can get a higher yield with the same safety and marketability; while if he will sacrifice some marketability he can still get high safety, short maturity and a considerably higher yield. We shall be glad to give practical examples on request.
